This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

LIBRARIAN'S REPORT.

OFFICE OF THE STATE LIBRARIAN,
DES MOINES, June 30, 1897.

To the Honorable Francis M. Drake, Governor of the State of Iowa:

SIR—I have the honor to submit to you the Twenty-sixth Biennial Report of the Iowa State Library, covering the period from July 1, 1895, to June 30, 1897, inclusive, together with a statement of the present condition of the library in its various departments.

At the close of the last biennial report there was in the library 49,202 volumes. To these have been added in the past two years by exchange and donation, 3,015; by purchase, 2,784; besides 2,500 volumes for the traveling libraries, making a total of 8,299. Total number of volumes now in the library, 57,501.

The crowded condition of the library compelled the librarian last year to ask to have the fifth story shelved. This having been done has greatly increased the facilities for placing and caring for the books and improving the means of access. Duplicates, United States government publications and state reports have since been moved and adjusted so that they are much more accessible. Among the improvements none is more perceptible than the collecting together alphabetically, on the fourth story, of the publications of the several states, territories and foreign countries.

The alcoves have been marked with large brass letters, thus locating the different classes, while on the shelves have been placed seven hundred shelf labels plainly marked in type, so that the visitor as well as the attendant can readily locate the books at a glance. Four thousand five hundred label numbers have been placed upon the various court reports, the original numbers, owing to constant handling, having become almost obliterated.

The third and fourth stories were newly carpeted and provided with chairs and tables, thus adding four comfortable rooms for the use of those consulting the library.

In the already well equipped law department, extra effort has been used to complete as far as possible the court reports of the several states and the United States, as well as foreign reports, adding thereto standard text-books, digests, and periodical literature. This department has long ranked among the four or five best collections of law books in the country, and the aim has been to keep it thus foremost.

The Grand Army department has received some valuable volumes which will interest the old soldiers, the students of the history of the rebellion, and any who may be attracted to the shelves. There have been added 225 volumes, including many rare records complete, containing the official accounts of battles and campaigns on both sides of the great conflict. These are supplemented by state rosters and histories of corps, divisions, brigades, and regiments, both Union and Confederate. Rare publications of Confederate statutes and official papers, embracing among them Forbes' celebrated war sketches beautifully illustrated, have been secured.

The art room has received its share of attention, and many valuable works pertaining to the fine arts and illustrations now comprise this interesting collection.

The department of science has recently been enriched by the addition of 284 volumes and supplements (purchased in Germany), consisting of six valuable sets of periodicals pertaining to chemistry, botany, and natural history: Pringeheim's Jahrbucher fur Wissenschaftliche Botanik, Liebig's Annalen der Chemie, and Weidemann's Annalen der Physik und Chemie complete from 1832 to date.

It is gratifying to note that the number of persons consulting the library is increasing. This will continue as the people come to realize what a great treasure is theirs in this collection; while they cannot look upon it without a touch of pride in this state institution, with its many rare and valuable deposits of books. From July 1, 1896, to July 1, 1897, the books consulted on various subjects numbered 37,175: Law, 19,995; miscellaneous, 17,180.

The money appropriated by the Twenty-sixth General Assembly to found the Iowa traveling libraries is bringing most gratifying returns. There are fifty libraries of fifty volumes each. These are classified, catalogued, and sent out over the state where they help to form the nucleus for starting libraries in remote places. An immense amount of extra labor has devolved upon the librarian by reason of the inauguration of the new system, but the reports coming in, and numerous letters received, expressing satisfaction at the selection, equipment, and management, repay all on whom this extra burden has been placed, stimulating as the system does a desire for reading the choice books thus distributed.

The librarian feels greatly indebted to the board of trustees for valuable aid and suggestions in inaugurating the traveling library, and especially to the members of the committee who assisted in the selection of the books for this department, and for the cordial and earnest spirit of helpfulness extended while the extra work was going on. It affords me great pleasure to acknowledge the co-operation, and the faithful and earnest efforts, of all those who are associated with me in the library.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. LANA HIXSON COPE,
State Librarian.
